From jacquie: We just finished DM discussion. RCMP is talking about immediate need is ongoing because people are still in the city, people still being charged, they have not yet cleared Coventry Road and they need to see what the truckers who are in Embrun, Arnprior and other staging areas around Ottawa do. Do they stay or do they go home. She is saying they may need the powers for 2-3 weeks to provide greater certainty. CBSA is saying that they are ok because generally everything they need to keep borders clear from blockades are by virtue of authorities provided to RCMP and other law enforcement through the EA. The other thing we discussed is getting a sense of how OPP Commissioner will advise Ontario government on the need to extend the Ontario emergency orders. I was able to confirm that the Ontario orders are in effect until Feb 26th (next Saturday) unless extended.
